2013 Chamber Awards Banquet held at Sharp

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

The 2013 Pendleton County Chamber of Commerce Awards Banquet was conducted at Phillip A. Sharp Middle School on May 4, beginning at 7:00 p.m. Chamber President Doug Buckner welcomed everyone to the banquet. Judge/Executive Henry Bertram gave the invocation. Patrick Clore was master of ceremonies. The dinner was served and the awards were presented in the cafeteria. The Chamber conducted a silent auction in the school's library.

The banquet meal was catered by Wyatt's Super Valu Deli. Turkey, baked ham, mashed potatoes, green beans, tossed salad, stuffing, layered cake and strawberry shortcake made up the buffet.

Each table was adorned by a

Rumpke investigates shift in trash at landfill

Rumpke engineers and the Kentucky Department of Environmental Protection (KDEP) are investigating a shift in buried waste within the Pendleton County, Ky. landfill that occurred on May 6.

The impacted area is on the south side of the site near where trash was actively being placed. The movement is entirely within the landfill itself and there is no health threat. No employees were impacted and no trucks or heavy equipment were damaged. Service will not be interrupted. The shifted material is being relocated to another portion of the landfill. Incoming trash is also being redirected to another section of the site.

"The site is stable and we are committed to working with KDEP to fully investigate the cause and ensure environmental compliance during the cleanup," said Brad Jordan, landfill manager, Rumpke.

Asphalt rehab projects awarded to 45 counties

Governor Steve Beshear announced that asphalt rehabilitation projects totaling more than $64 million have been awarded by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet as the spring construction season continues.

"Our highway system supports virtually everything we do in Kentucky in terms of economic development, commerce, jobs, education and recreation," Gov. Beshear said. "It represents an incalculable investment, and good stewardship requires that we keep it well-maintained."

The latest distribution, involving 66 contracts for roadways in 45 counties, is the second round of asphalt projects awarded this spring. The Cabinet awarded more than $27 million in contracts in April.

"Providing safe and efficient travel routes through the Commonwealth is our main priority," Kentucky Transportation Secretary Mike Hancock said. "Improving and maintaining our roadways through asphalt rehabilitation is just one of the ways we work toward this goal."

In Pendleton County: Two sections of roadway including a 6.9-mile section of Greenwood-Grassy Creek Road (KY 17) from U.S. 27 to KY 467 and a 1.8-mile section of Decoursey Pike from U.S. 27 to KY 3185. Mago Construction Company LLC was awarded the contract for $594,838.

National Police Week observed May 15 - 22

In 1962, President John F. Kennedy signed a proclamation which designated May 15 as Peace Officers Memorial Day and the week in which that date falls as Police Week. Tens of thousands of law enforcement officers from around the world converge on Washington, DC to participate in a number of planned events which honor those that have paid the ultimate sacrifice. The memorial began in 1982 as survivors and supporters of law enforcement. Now known as National Police Week, this has grown to a series of events which attracts thousands of survivors and law enforcement officers to our Nation's Capital each year.

One-vehicle accident sends man to hospital

Pendleton County Sheriff Craig Peoples investigated a one vehicle injury accident at 2:39 p.m. on Friday, May 10. Timothy Jacob, 50, DeMossville, operating a 1988 Lincoln Towncar, was traveling north on Ky Hwy 17 North when he came around a curve and went off the right shoulder. He struck a tree, and went 50 feet sideways, hitting another tree broadside in the driver's door. The Falmouth Fire Department responded to the accident in order to free Jacob from the wrecked vehicle. Pendleton County Ambulance Service transported the injured man to St. Elizabeth Medical Center South. The roadway was closed for a short time and reopened at 5 p.m. Photo by Jackie Vaughn.

Crash stats don't show real impact of texting

Here's an unscientific observation about Kentucky drivers that is almost certainly accurate: Thousands of them, in violation of state law and good sense, are texting on their cellphones while driving.

How can this be proven? Unfortunately, the proof is not found in the number of traffic citations written for texting while driving in the past couple of years. That number is small. The Lexington Herald-Leader newspaper reported last week that only 976 citations were written between January 2011 and the first week of February this year. That's nowhere near the number of drivers who text behind the wheel every day.

Intuitively, everyone knows that distracted driving is dangerous. Cars cannot run safely when the driver is not watching the road.

Police say texting is also underreported in traffic crashes. In 2011, distraction was a contributing factor in 49,821 crashes in Kentucky, and 144 people died in those crashes. Cellphones were cited as the factor in only two percent of the accidents. Eight people died in those crashes.

This is tough for police officers investigating crashes. Officers often have no reason to suspect cellphone use when they arrive at a crash scene, and drivers are unlikely to mention it. A subpoena can be required to review cellphone records.

Kentucky is among 39 states where it is illegal to text while driving. Ten states and the District of Columbia don't allow drivers to use cellphones at all unless the equipment is hands-free.

That's the logical next step for Kentucky. But no laws will keep us safe without a massive public awareness effort to convince drivers they cannot be safe on the road if they are holding a cellphone in one hand and the steering wheel in the other.

OPINION

Back Yonder

By Marvin Sullivan

"BUCKET"

I hope I am wrong, but my thinking is that in our near future we will have to revert back to pioneer methods. I probably won't be around when this change takes place, and I hope I'm not, but it is coming.

Our society has become so dependent on our government that when a need arises we stand with our hands extended and say, "What are they going to do?"

The younger generation could be hungry and have a bushel of green beans sitting on the kitchen floor and not have enough sense to cook them.

Our basic drives of survival have weakened. All we know how to do is grab our cell phone and dial 911. We then wait until twenty police cruisers surround our home to protect us from a stray raccoon that is stranded in our attic.

A young mother can come to the door and yell, "dinner" and the entire family will run to the SUV for a trip to McDonalds.

The vacationers on the Carnival Cruise Ship had to revert to pioneer ways earlier this year when the ship stalled in the Gulf of Mexico. Passengers were provided with plastic garbage bags to use as a toilet facility when the ship's plumbing system failed.

Why I may have invented this plastic bag method years ago when I was riding on the Alabama Wagon Train. This wagon train was a primitive expedition that lasted for ten days and covered 165 miles, from Boaz, Alabama, to Montgomery.

Each rider or driver provided his own food, light, and supplies. Restroom facilities composed of eight port-a-lets that were positioned on a flatbed trailer. This trailer was pulled along as the train moved. We called it the "honey wagon."

Needless to say, this facility was not the most pleasant place to visit. During daylight hours, the honey wagon was manageable, but in the middle of the night, it became a difficult task.

I decided that I would invent my own private toilet in the back of my horse trailer. With a five gallon bucket and a plastic garbage bag liner, my necessary facility was created.

I would use the bucket during the night. The next morning before the train left, I would pull the draw string, and deposit the bag in one of the various barrels that were placed throughout the camp. Everything would be all neat and sanitary.

What I did not consider was there was a team of local guys who owned this old garbage truck. The authorities had employed them to empty the barrels and tidy the camp as the train left each day.

The guys were pretty rough characters. They were burley with sandy red beards and shaggy hair. They had tattoos and wore earrings. This was a time before men wore earrings. It was almost as if they were welcoming someone to comment so they could throw a punch.

They added to their income by collecting aluminum cans from the garbage. I was about ready to leave one morning when I heard the truck approaching. I didn't think much until I heard one of the collectors start yelling and cursing to the top of his lungs. (I later learned the reason for his anger. He had reached into the bag to retrieve what he thought was a can, but made contact with another object.)

I stuck my head out my trailer door and commented, "What's wrong?---Do you need help?"

"What's wrong!" he yelled. "Look what some S.O.B. has done in this garbage bag!"

I acted innocent and responded, "Do you know who did it?"

He said, "I wish I did!"

I breathed a sigh of relief. I thought I would further divert any suspicion he might have and uttered, "If I were you and found out who did that, I would kill that no account skunk!"

Bowen Heirs Relay for Life team cleaned up litter

Dear Editor,

On Saturday, March 25, 2013, The Bowen Heirs Relay for Life team picked up four miles of trash on Center Ridge Road. We had eight workers and picked up 31 bags of trash. We found nine tires, a sideboard from a van, a foam cooler and all of the usual take out containers and beer bottles and cans.

Thank You,
Darlene Faulkner

Morgan Christian cleaned up roadside litter

Dear Editor,

On March 16, 2013 the Unity Baptist Church Youth Group picked up litter on KY 467 beginning at mile point 6.40 and ending at mile point 10.20. We picked up 18 bags of trash in just under five miles of road. We have adopted this highway and we would like to urge the community not to throw your trash on the roadway, but put it in your trash in your garbage cans or recycle (even better) when you get home. We picked up a variety of items ranging from screwdriv-ers, pocket knives, fast food trash, bottles cans, car parts and many more items. Please help us keep our community clean.

Thank You,
Youth leader Beverly Davis

Grace Guerrant Gabbard Collins, My Mother

(Marvin Sullivan in his recent poignant piece entitled, "Mother," said he sometimes calls his wife, "Mother" because she is in some ways a Mother to him, particularly after losing his birth Mother at a very early age. This is not meant to diminish Marvin's explanation, but I have a friend who calls his wife, "Mother." When I queried him as to why, he said that he forgets names easily and he was afraid he might forget her name; therefore, to be safe, he just calls her "Mother.")

My Mother lived to be 90 and was laid out at Deaton's Funeral Home, 15 years ago this past February. Family and friends had been notified of her demise and her extended family gathered in to show their last respects. It was not an unhappy occasion, for Mother had lived a long and rich life and had spent the last five years in Sayre Christian Village / Nursing Home in Lexington. Even in the Nursing Home she adjusted well and made friends with other patients, some in worse physical shape than she.

I remember well the evening when the call came that she had suffered a stroke and was not expected to live. I was still working in Pendleton and had taken her out to eat while on business in Lexington. She seemed anxious to return to the Village because they were having some folk games that evening and she wanted to enjoy the festivities. Returning to Pendleton, I received the call from my brother, Tom, who said that she had been found unconscious on the floor of her apartment while she was preparing for bed. I dressed and went immediately to the hospital where the attending physician told us that she was a major stroke victim, and if she were his mother, he would not intervene with the inevitable. He showed us a picture of her brain hemorrhage which was the size of a half of an adult's hand. Tom and I agreed.

Ten days went by and she lingered in a comatose condition. Our son, Kevin, had gone by the hospital to check on his Granny and apparently said something to her when she opened her eyes and said, "I'm hungry!"

She survived another four years, was dropped while being transferred from her bed to her chair and suffered a broken leg. Janice was visiting her the next day when she said, "I'm the luckiest woman alive!"

Something else is pertinent to this story. She married Cyrus Collins when she was 15, she in the eighth grade and he her teacher. After rearing us three children she went back to school at the age of 45 and began teaching after two years at Lees College. She took extension classes and went to summer school and graduated nine years later from EKV. She taught elementary public school for 27 years.

Was she ever discouraged? I am sure she was from time to time, but the set of her jaw showed a determination to succeed as she struggled with some of her college courses and the pressures of mothering a household. Our family admired her gumption and tried to help her in any way we could, and it was fortunate that she was able to get her teaching certificate because our father was in failing health that forced his early retirement.

One other piece of information before the denouement of this piece: Her mother had died when she was 10; her brother, Bill, was 12; and her sister, Edna, was eight. Her Father, John D. Gabbard, worked in the railroad yards in Hazard and was away from home during the week. She became a mother to her two siblings and they bonded together for survival, often huddling together around the fireplace to keep warm during the bitter winters of 1917-18, also the time when influenza raged across the world, killing over 50,000,000 persons.

Now back to the layout at Deaton's. Brother, Bill, had died several years previously and sister, Edna Wilder was 88 and in poor health in Birmingham, Alabama. Her family had told us that it would be impossible for her to make the trip to Grace's funeral. I was sitting in an off room at the funeral home talking to some friends when a hush fell on those in the hallway. Edna on a walker, with her son-in-law and daughter on either side, made her way slowly down the aisle and turned to where Mother lay in repose. No tears. No weeping. No demonstration. She just held Mother's hand and looked intently at her face as if to say, "We survived, Grace, wait for me at the eastern gate, over there!"

PS. The harsh environment of earlier days in eastern Kentucky and elsewhere, produced many great women, many more than just my mother. Mothers whose greatness was seldom known beyond family and friends. There was a time when education was frowned on for girls and they were often hemmed in because of family responsibilities, but slowly attitudes toward education for girls changed and several pioneers showed the world what they could do when given a chance.

I was talking with a man recently whose wife went to college after having four children. She started at Lees and went on to EKV. He said that it was a sad day for his children and him when they took their mommy to EKV, left her there, and went back home, the oldest child being 12. But he said his children really pulled together and the oldest boy became a good cook.

Of the four children one is now a pharmacist; another is an engineer; another manages a nursing home; and the youngest is a principal of an elementary school. All are in supervisory positions.

Blessed be our mothers and their abiding and nurturing love and influence! "The hand that rocks the cradle...rules the world!"

100 years old and counting

It's not every day that you see someone live a century but Ms. Clevie Bruin has done just that. She was born in Bracken County, Ky. on May 20, 1913 to Grover and Sally-Francis Flora. She married Harvey Bruin in January 1932 and was married for 62 years.

Harvey and Clevie farmed, fished, hunted, built houses, and worked in the factories in Bracken, Pendleton and Harrison counties. Upon retirement the couple lived in Falmouth above Houchen's Shoe Store for 45 years.

Clevie loved to fish; there probably isn't a body of water that she didn't catch a fish from in the surrounding counties.

Another past time for Clevie was quilting. Many blue ribbon winners were sewn together with love and patience.

Everyone is invited to celebrate and honor Clevie as she reaches the milestone of 100 years

NSCS welcomes Emily Grace Moreland

Emily Grace Moreland of Falmouth has accepted membership in the National Society of Collegiate Scholars (NSCS).

"NSCS is more than just a symbol of academic achievement. Membership gives students access to a number of amazing benefits including career and networking resources, scholarships, travel, and service projects both on campus and in the community," says Stephen E. Loflin, NSCS founder and chief executive officer.

NSCS is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies and is the nation's only interdisciplinary honors organization for first-year and second-year college students. Membership is by invitation only, based on grade point average and class standing. NSCS has nearly one million lifetime members and

Students should learn about credit scores

Your credit score is a three-digit number that has a long-lasting effect on your buying power. When you apply for credit, your credit score will be checked. The higher your credit score, the better the chances you will be approved. This information from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) will help you understand more about your credit score.

Although there are several scoring methods, the most widely accepted form comes from the Fair Isaac Corporation, or FICO. Your FICO score ranges from 300 to 850. The exact formula that Fair Isaac uses is proprietary information, but these items make up your credit score:

- 35 percent of your score is based on your payment history. Early payments will have a higher number than on-time payments, which will have a higher score than late payments.
- 30 percent of the score is based on outstanding debt. This outstanding debt is how much you owe on car loans, mortgages, credit cards, etc. The number of credit cards you have and if those cards are near the maximum borrowing limit will hurt your score.

- 15 percent of the score is based on the length of time you have had credit. The longer you have been borrowing money and paying it back in a timely manner, the better your score.
- 10 percent of the score is based on new credit. If you have opened several new accounts, that will have a negative effect on your score. Also, the more inquiries on your credit report in a year, the lower your score.
- 10 percent of the score is based on the types of credit you currently have. It helps to have a mix of loan types. If you have a credit card, an installment loan will even the credit out.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers Kentucky's grant and scholarship programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES). It provides free copies of "It's Money, Baby," a guide to financial literacy, to Kentucky schools and residents upon request at publications@kheea.com.

Henry Mason and Jane McMullin were married on May 16, 1816 in Pendleton County.

EKU Graphics Communications students win International Award at Phoenix Challenge

A team of Eastern Kentucky University Graphic Communications Management students won first place in the research category at the Phoenix Challenge: International Collegiate Flexo Skills Competition on April 27 in San Diego, Calif.

The Flexo Skills Competition is a year-long competition for 2- and 4-year programs teaching flexographic printing as a part of their curriculum. Flexography uses a photopolymer plate to image paper, film or other substrate.

Teams were presented with the opportunity to design proposals for a local music or arts festival of narrow web flexographically printed labels and/or packaging to be used for concession food items to be sold at the event, as well as a promotional piece. The sustainability of the items was also to be considered, as "the amount of waste could be large." The competition is judged in four categories: research, concept, execution and graphics, with winners in each category and an overall winner.

EKU Graphic Communications Management students who participated were: Dylan Lakes, Cynthiana; Catherine Thompson, Versailles; Nichole Arbino, Cincinnati; Alex Carson, Falmouth; and Dawn

Plunkett, Crittenden.

The research category was broken into depth of research (10 points), breadth of research (10), citations and sources (10), use of industry resources (15) and market research (40). The ECU team met with the coordinators of the Richmond Jubilo Festival and sought rebranding ideas. Three designs were chosen after a large number of proposals. Those designs were then uploaded to the ECU Graphic Communications Facebook page for voting by interested parties. Once a final design was chosen, students began to create the packaging that would be printed for the competition. Considerable research went into specifications for print, FDA requirements for food packaging and other important considerations.

Eight other institutions participated in the competition. They included overall winner Ryerson University from Canada, Excellence in Concept winner California Polytechnic State University, Excellence in Graphics and Execution winner Clemson, Western Michigan University, Illinois State University, University of Central Missouri, Central Piedmont Community College and Wakesha County Technical College.

PCHS recognized for yearbook with nine awards

The 2011-2012 Pendleton County High School Echo Yearbook is celebrating nine awards. The book won second place honors in its classification in the American Scholastic Press Association Annual Contest/Review. Yearbooks were judged according to school size and awarded points in various categories. The points were then tallied and totals determined the which award the book was given. In addition to awards, judges gave critiques of each book. This is the first time that The Echo was submitted for judging and critique in this contest.

Pendleton County High School was also recently recognized and received awards in the annual statewide high school journalism contest, sponsored by the Kentucky High School Journalism Association, based in Frankfort. The contest recognizes high school journalists participating in high school newspapers, yearbooks and broadcast programs. KHSJA was founded 16 years ago by the Kentucky Press Association and has nearly 100 member high schools. In the category of yearbook, Pendleton County High School was awarded the following results: Cover Design - third place, Writing Style - third place, Overall Design - third place, Use of Graphics - third place, Photography - third place, Overall Coverage - third place, General Excellence - third Place.

Lastly, the 2011-2012 Echo will be recognized in Balfour's 2013 Yearbook Yearbook. According to the press release from Balfour, "The Pendleton County High School yearbook staff has been recognized by Balfour Yearbooks with an Honorable Mention Certificate of Recognition for their outstanding contribution to scholastic journalism. Yearbooks published by Balfour for the 2012 school year were evaluated in one or more of the following areas: theme development, layout design, photo content, secondary packages and cover design. For their outstanding yearbook achievement, Balfour honors approximately twelve percent of yearbook staffs with Honorable Mention recognition in Yearbook Yearbook."

"This is only the third year that ECU has participated in this competition, and now we rank with the best," Dr. David W. Dailey, professor of applied engineering and technology, said.

"We received our press about four years ago in a transfer from Gateway Community and Technical College when their program closed. We offered our first course, GCM 318, Flexographic Printing, in Spring 2012. We had covered flexographic printing in our classes, but students were unable to have hands-on application until just a few years ago. By achieving this honor, the ECU program steps up to show that we can compete with the major programs in the country. This will also enable us to add to our software, supplies and equipment through donations from companies in the industry."

The ECU team also presented its work on May 2 in the College of Business and Technology Capstone Presentation. Each of the six departments in the college presented work that was done in association with their classes. Presentations were judged by outside judges, and the Graphic Communications Management students won first place for the Department of Applied Engineering and Technology.

In her second year as yearbook advisor, Ali Duff, is very impressed with her students' work. "The 2011-2012 yearbook staff was a wonderful group of kids to work with. They worked hard all year, completed deadlines early, and had fun in between all the hectic days. As a first-year advisor last year I couldn't have asked for a better staff. They were open to the challenge I gave them at the start of the year to produce a yearbook our community could be proud of years from now, a book that would win awards. They did just that. When I took over the job of yearbook advisor my personal goal was to improve the overall yearbook program by taking the yearbook from just memories of the year to a true journalistic publication. The Echo staff is fast on their way to reaching this goal. The journalism contests we entered have given us valuable feedback and suggestions for improvement. We have been able to take this information to create an even better book this year."

Congratulations to the PCHS yearbook staff on a job well done!

Jordan Blackaby inducted into Lambda Sigma Honor Society

A local student at Eastern Kentucky University (EKU), Jordan Blackaby of DeMossville, has recently been inducted into Mu Chapter of Lambda Sigma Honor Society. Lambda Sigma is a national organization which recognizes first year students for their scholarship and service.

She was one of the 27 students selected out of more than 4,000 first year students at EKU. Lambda Sigma recognizes outstanding first-year students on 40 campuses around the United States. The society is dedicated to fostering leadership, scholarship, fellowship, and the spirit of service among college students.

They join more than 55,000 Lambda Sigma alumni around the world who have been recognized by the organization since it was founded at the University of Pittsburgh in 1922.

Students named to Phi Kappa Phi

The following two students were granted an achievement for being inducted into Phi Kappa Phi at The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi:

Lauren Jones of Falmouth and John Bergman, Jr. of Falmouth.

Founded in 1897, Phi Kappa Phi is the nation's oldest and most selective collegiate honor society for all academic disciplines. Phi Kappa Phi inducts annually approximately 32,000 students, faculty, professional staff and alumni.

For more information, visit www.PhiKappaPhi.org.

PCHS Student Council installs new officers

Pendleton County High School Student Council held their annual end of the year banquet on May 5, 2013. Lots of preparation went into this event by the officers and the banquet went smoothly and was enjoyed by all that attended.

Superintendent Anthony Strong began the program and brought greetings to the group recognizing their accomplishments.

Special awards were presented at the event and the Salesmanship Award went to Mackenzie Moore, and Member of the Year was presented to Jacob Johnson (9), Abby Bex (10), Madison Steele (11), Brittany Baumgartner (12).

The council also congratulated the officer team of the 2012-2013 school year, and installed the new officer team for the 2013-2014 school year.

Student Council would like to say thank you to this year's council for a very successful year and wish the best of luck to our seniors as they further their education.

Pendleton County FFA attended the University of Kentucky 4-H/FFA Field Day at Commonwealth Stadium in Lexington.

University of Kentucky 4-H/FFA Field Day well attended

Nearly 1,200 students representing 48 schools from across the Commonwealth attended the 43rd annual University of Kentucky 4-H/FFA Agriculture Field Day. This event, hosted by the College of Agriculture and the Department of Community and Leadership Development, took place at Commonwealth Stadium. The field day events assessed student's content knowledge in the areas of agriculture, food, and natural resources. Twenty-eight competitive events assessed students' core academic knowledge in the area of agriculture.

At this year's Field Day the Pendleton County FFA participated and placed in several events. FFA

Quiz Bowl (Autumn Pugh, Zach Rogers, Adrianna Howard, Kiley Monfils), Floriculture Evaluation (Sabrina Sebastian, Missy Combs, Cheyenne Hurston, Elizabeth Egli-an), Job Interview Career Development Event (Lance Fisher-Senior division third place, Shannon Carey Junior division), Horse Industry Knowledge (Jackson Strong, Kelly Armour, Dylan Fields, Jordan Den-nie), Seed identification (Clay Thompson), Tractor Driving (Erhan Moore - third place), Welding (first place team for the Northern Kentucky Region: Aric Stephenson, Zach Partin, Jacob Edwards, Kyle Florer. Kyle was the overall third highest individual score out of over 90 competitors.), and Vet Science (Jacob Feltner, Harley Grogan, Caleb Browning, Megan Straus)

The University of Kentucky 4-H/FFA field day is a tradition that exemplifies the care and effort the College of Agriculture places on the future of young agriculturalist. The College of Agriculture represents 14 departments and a School of Human Environmental Sciences. These departments represent a plethora of academic majors to fit the needs of professional careers associated in a community, rural and/or agriculture spectrum. Please schedule your next academic visit with a College of Agriculture representative at (859) 257-3469.

Bronson Teague, a fifth grader at Northern Elementary, has produced several paintings while working in the GATES program.

Bronson Teague displays talented artwork

My name is Bronson Teague and I am in fifth grade at Northern Elementary.

My first paintings for this year in GATES were paintings with a Native American theme. I looked up pictures by Native American artists to help me get ideas.

My first piece of artwork called, "Dream Land" is a tree with a hand coming out of it and holding a dream catcher. I learned how to make it look like light was shining out of it in this painting.

My second painting was a wolf and I called it "Howling at the Moon." In this painting I learned how to make the fur look like it comes from different directions and like it was real.

My third painting I started to paint landscapes. My first landscape was a barn scene and I called it "The County Hills." I learned how to make the trees look like they have bark and how to make the barn have the texture of wood.

My fourth painting was for Mrs. Crozier and it is of a picture she gave me, I call it "A Loving Place to Be." In this painting I had a hard time with the clouds and I learned how to form them.

My next painting will be a landscape also. I'm going to paint reflections.

I hope you enjoy my artwork.

Northern students receive awards Hollywood-style

Special awards were given to fourth and fifth grade students who made a "distinguished" last year on the KPREP test in any of the following subjects: math, reading or science. Students at Northern Elementary got to walk the red carpet in their Hollywood-like attire for the event. The presenters (staff) were also all decked in formal wear. Special guest singer was Tara Pierce. The student of the year as well as the certified and classified employees of the year were also announced. The student of the year was Samantha Verst. The certified employee of the year was Brenda Kells and the classified employee of the year was Phyllis Mason. Congratulations to these all-star achievers. Commissioner Comer commemorates May "Beef Month" in Kentucky

As the weather warms, Kentuckians are firing up their grills for tasty burgers and steaks. Gov. Steve Beshear recognizes this American tradition and is proclaiming May 2013 "Beef Month" in the commonwealth of Kentucky.

"I encourage all Kentuckians to support Kentucky's beef cattle industry and to salute our cattle farmers during the month of May for their contribution to Kentucky's agricultural and rural economy," said Gov. Beshear. "The Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund has helped make this industry top-notch, with more than $67 million supporting projects related to the cattle industry in Kentucky since 2001."

From beef farmers to feed manufacturers, equipment dealers and food marketers, thousands of people play a role in bringing beef from pasture to plate. In fact, beef farmers generated nearly $630 million in cash receipts from the sale of cattle and calves in 2011.

Kentucky has more than two million head of cattle on Kentucky farms, and as one of the largest segments of American agriculture, the beef industry ranks in the top five among agricultural commodities in Kentucky.

Beef also plays a key role in a healthy diet. Emerging research continues to support findings that protein, like that enjoyed in lean beef, can help maintain healthy weight, build muscle and gain the energy needed for active lives.

Since there are over 29 cuts of beef that meet government guidelines for lean, like filet mignon, T-bone, top sirloin and 93 percent lean beef, today's consumers have plenty of healthy beef options.

Visit www.kybeef.com for ways to celebrate beef month or join in a Beef Council promotional event. For more information on Kentucky's Beef Industry contact Alison Smith with the Kentucky Beef Council at 859-278-0899 or 859-285-0204.

Kentucky Agriculture raising awareness and support for hemp production

Agriculture Commissioner James Comer returned to Kentucky confident that the federal government will act to legalize industrial hemp production in the near future. Comer's plane from Washington, D.C., landed in Kentucky at 1 a.m. EDT, and he was back in the office hours later to report on three days of meetings with administration officials and lawmakers.

"I feel like we had a very successful trip," Comer said. "We had some great meetings with key people on both sides of the political aisle. We were able to educate people about the economic potential of industrial hemp. And we got a lot of media coverage that enabled us to raise awareness about hemp on a national level."

Comer met with U.S. Sens. Mitch McConnell and Rand Paul; U.S. Reps. John Yarmuth, Thomas Massie, Brett Guthrie, Andy Barr, and Ed Whitfield; and Rep. Hal Rogers' agriculture policy specialist. Comer also landed a coveted 20-minute meeting with House Speaker John Boehner and sat down with representatives of the White House, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Environmental Protection Agency, and the Department of Energy (where a DOE official attended the meeting wearing a hemp dress).

State Sen. Paul Hornback and former state Treasurer Jonathan Miller joined Comer for most of the meetings. They went to Washington to press for several avenues that could allow Kentucky farmers to grow industrial hemp and to urge members of Congress to support legislation that would legalize hemp production.

Eric Steenstra of Vote Hemp, an advocacy group that briefed the commissioner on the history of hemp on Capitol Hill, said he admired Comer's fearless approach to D.C.

"For years, we've watched politicians wink and nod at the hemp issue and play a blame game when it didn't go anywhere," Steenstra said. "Commissioner Comer really wants to accomplish something for his state. And that was refreshing to see."

While in Washington, Comer was interviewed by The Huffington Post, Politico, and Roll Call. On Friday, Comer was interviewed by members of the Kentucky press corps and recorded an interview for the "Kentucky Newsmakers" program, which airs at 6 a.m. Sunday on WKYT-TV in Lexington.

HMH radiology receives accreditation

The HMH radiology department can add another feather to its cap. The Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) services received re-accreditation by the American College of Radiology. The program is accredited for Hitachi Open MRI for adult and pediatric patients.

The entire program is evaluated on the facility, personnel qualifications, image quality, equipment, quality control procedures and protocols. This involved an extensive application process. MRI Radiology Technologists, Abigail Coffee and Noelle Currans have worked on the project for the past year, along with the medical director of radiology, Dr. Doug Crutcher.

The ACR awards accreditation to facilities for the achievement of high practice standards after a peer-review evaluation of its practice. Image quality and procedure evaluations are conducted by board-certified radiologists and medical physicists who are experts in the field. The program also evaluates personnel qualifications, adequacy of facility equipment, quality control procedures and quality assurance programs. All findings are reported to the practice via a comprehensive report that includes recommendations for improvement.

"Re-accreditation of the MRI shows HMH's true commitment to quality patient care," says Bowles, HMH radiology manager.

Other modalities to have this accreditation are computed tomography (CT) scan, mammography and nuclear medicine.

The HMH Radiology Department plays a critical role in the accurate imaging, reading of images and diagnosis of patients by offering a full-range of services for both adults and pediatrics. The department is staffed by two board-certified, experienced radiologists as well as radiology technologists. All radiology technologists are certified and licensed in his or her field of practice.

To learn more about the radiology department, visit the HMH website at harrisonmemhosp.com. Or contact the department at 859-235-3559.

Maysville Distillery released first whiskey in 70 years

By Marla Toncray, The Ledger Independent

Company officials with The Old Pogue Distillery, LLC, announced Friday the release of the first barrel aged whiskey distilled in Maysville in more than 70 years.

The limited quantity brown spirit will be available only at The Old Pogue Distillery in Maysville beginning at 1 p.m., on Wednesday, May 1. The release of Five Fathers Pure Malt Rye Whiskey, a barrel aged, 55 percent alcohol by volume (110 proof) whiskey, is the culmination of several years of planning by the Pogue family, and is the first barrel aged whiskey distilled and aged by one of Kentucky's legendary bourbon whiskey families since before Prohibition.

"Five Fathers is a tribute to our forefathers, all five of them" said Paul Pogue, Old Pogue's head distiller who, along with his cousin John, distiller, distilled and aged the first aged whiskey at the distillery.

"Four generations of Pogues before us, starting with our great-great-grandfather, H.E. Pogue I, began distilling Pure Rye Whiskey in Maysville in 1876, on this very site," said John Pogue. "We felt this was a fitting way to honor our forefathers for their pioneering in the Kentucky whiskey business," John Pogue continued.

Described as having notes of honey with rye spice, sweet orange, and caramel with undertones of vanilla, Five Fathers starts mellow and very smooth, with spice that creeps up on the palate during delivery with a peppery spice finish.

Peter Pogue said the five fathers whose pictures appear on the label are H.E. Pogue I, who started the H.E. Pogue Distillery in Maysville in 1876; H.E. Pogue II, who ran the distillery until 1918; H.E. Pogue III, who ran the distillery through Prohibition; H.E. Pogue IV; and finally John P. Pogue, Sr., father of the current Pogue generation who has re-established the family business and products.

The sale of Five Fathers will only be available at the Old Pogue Distillery located at 716 West 2nd Street in Maysville.

The release took place at 1 p.m., Wednesday, May 1. Individuals wishing to obtain a bottle of Five Fathers must register at the Pogue Distillery website, www.oldpogue.com/tours.

THE NATE JONES REPORT

By Jack Wright

Pendleton County's hometown Major League Baseball star, Nathan Andrew "Nate" Jones, is in his second season as a relief pitcher with the Chicago White Sox. Below are brief details of his in-game activities for the week ending May 12, 2013.

Tuesday, May 7, versus New York Mets: Entered the game to begin the bottom of the 9th inning, score tied 0-0. First batter (John Buck) grounds out to third base. Second batter (Lucas Duda) flies out to right field. Third batter (Jordany Valdespin) strikes out swinging to end the inning. Sox do not score in the top of the 10th inning and Jones comes back out to pitch the bottom. First batter (Ike Davis) walks. Second batter (Jaun Lagares) executes a sacrifice bunt (out) moving the runner on first base to second. Third batter (Mike Baxter) singles to right field to score the winning run from second base with Jones recording his third loss of the season. Sox lose 1-0. One-and-one-third innings pitched; six batters faced;

24 pitches (14 strikes); one hit; one walk; one strike out; one run (earned).

Friday, May 10, versus Los Angeles Angels: Entered the game to begin the top of the 8th inning, Sox losing 7-5. First batter (Alberto Callaspo) infield ground ball single to the left of the third baseman and off the shortstop's glove. Second batter (Hank Conger) strikes out swinging. Third batter (Brendan Harris) singles sharply to right field putting runners on first and second base. Fourth batter (J. B. Shuck) grounds into a force out, third to second, leaving runners on first and third. Fifth batter (Mike Trout) grounds out to the shortstop to end the inning. Sox do not score in the bottom of the 8th inning and Jones comes back out to pitch the 9th. First batter (Albert Pujols) strikes out swinging. Second batter (Mark Trumbo) grounds out to shortstop. Third batter (Josh Hamilton) grounds out to Jones to end the inning. Sox do not score in the bottom of the 9th inning and lose 7-5. Two innings pitched; eight batters faced; 31 pitches (22 strikes); two hits; zero runs; two strike outs.

Jones' stats for the week: 2 games; 3.1 innings pitched; 14 batters faced; 55 pitches (36 strikes); 3 hits; 1 walk; 3 strike outs; 1 run (earned); 1 loss.

Jones' stats for the season: 14 games; 16.0 innings pitched; 68 batters faced; 275 pitches (164 strikes); 16 hits; 12 runs (9 earned); 8 walks; 2 wild pitches; 13 strike outs; 1 home run; 0 wins; 3 losses; 5.06 earned run average.

Sox season record: 15 wins; 20 losses; last place American League Central Division.

The 38th District tournament schedule

The 38th District tournament will be played at Nicholas County during the week of May 20.

#1 seed Harrison County will play #4 seed Robertson County at 5:30 p.m. in Carlisle on Monday, May 20. #2 seed Pendleton County will play #3 seed Nicholas County at 5:30 p.m. in Carlisle on Tuesday, May 21.

The championship game is slated for 5:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 22 at in Carlisle.

If weather rains out either of the first two dates or the championship game, games will be pushed back a date except the first makeup date/time for the championship game will be at 2 p.m., Friday, May 24.

2013 10th Region Tournament will be held at Scott High School with first round played on Monday, May 27. Times and pairings to be announced.

Scheduling was tough with Pendleton having class night on Monday and Commencement on Thursday, Harrison County having Baccalaureate on Wednesday and Commencement on Friday and Nicholas County has Senior Awards/Class Night on Thursday and Commencement on Saturday. Robertson County is finished the previous week.

Ladycats take on Augusta on Senior Night

By: Sam McClanahan, Reporter
The continued rainy Spring limited the Pendleton County Ladycats to just one softball game last week, a road loss to district rival Harrison County in a one-sided contest 16-0.

Despite the outcome, head coach Steven Peed continues to express optimism about his club as the regular season enters its final week.

"We played well in this game, but give credit to Harrison County for being able to put the bat on some bad pitches and put themselves in a position to get runners on base," said Peed.

The Ladycats collected six hits in the game and did not commit any defensive errors, something Peed noted as continued improvement as this season has progressed.

"Overall, we're coming along. I feel pretty good about this team. We've been playing our best softball over the past week and a half and I believe that if we continue to improve we stand a chance at appearing in our first regional tournament in 11 years," said Peed.

Among the players Coach Peed has noticed drastic improvement include senior pitcher Samantha Smith and senior first baseman Kelsey Young.

"Samantha has kept us in many games throughout the season. She's a tough competitor who never backs down from any opponent. Kelsey has really come on recently. She's shown a lot better discipline at the plate and her on-base percentage has probably doubled in the last week and a half," said Peed.

Last night, the Ladycats traveled to face Grant County. Results were not available at press time. Tonight, the team will play its final home game and hold Senior Night festivities before taking on Augusta at 5:30 p.m. The 'Cats wrap up the regular season Thursday evening at Silver Grove.

Match-ups for district tournament play were recently announced and the Ladycats will host Nicholas County at 5 p.m. on May 21. The winner will advance to take on Harrison County in the championship.

Youth soccer camp registration

Soccer is a worldwide phenomenon and coach Stacey Myers, the Ladycat coaching staff and players are doing their part on the pitches of Pendleton County with a youth camp in the evenings from 6-8 p.m., June 3-6. Camp will be held at the soccer fields in front of Southern Elementary.

Appropriate age and development instruction will be given to each player. Cost is only $40 and both girls and boys are welcome.

Pendleton Wildcats prepare for 38th Districts

As the Cats enter the last week of the regular season, they know they face Nicholas County at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 21 in Carlisle in the first round of 38th District play.

But there are still questions for coach Aaron Biddle will be looking to finalize over the next eight days as they look to rebound after tough losses this rain-filled week that limited the games and practices that could be played. Last Thursday night saw the Cats drop an 8-1 loss to Mason County and a tough DH sweep to Lewis County. A 5-4 walk off victory for Lewis County and a 10-7 battle that Lewis pulled out.

Who will start on the mound in that opening round district game versus Nicholas County? What will be the batting order and offensive strategy against an expected left-hander on the mound? Who will be where defensively after errors led to unearned runs in district first round games the past two years have led to Nicholas County victories?

Over the last few games, Senior Right Hander Tyler Daugherty and Sophomore Left Hander Josh Brown have gotten the majority of the big game starts and the decision for the district tournament starter seems to be between these two pitchers. If Tyler gets the start, Josh has been playing 1B and vice versa.

Collins hosting future Ladycats basketball camp

Coach Scott Collins became the first Ladycat Basketball Coach in school history to win a second 38th District Title. But not resting on his laurels, he hosts the 2013 Future Ladycat Basketball Camp and preparing his future players for the demands of playing Ladycat Basketball and winning district championships.

The camp will be held on Tuesday, May 28 through Friday, May 31. Campers entering the first thru fifth grades can attend from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Campers entering sixth thru eighth grade can attend from noon to 2 p.m. Cost is only $25.

The Ladycat coaching staff believes in the teaching and demonstration of fundamental skills required for the game of basketball. We want to instill a hard work ethic in a fun environment to help interested players develop the necessary skills to play in the competitive setting.

P.C. Alum catching for Thomas More baseball team

The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division III Baseball Committee awarded the Thomas More College baseball team (29-14) Pool C (at-large) bid to the NCAA Division III Championship and will travel to Terre Haute, Indiana to play the College of Wooster (32-10) on Wednesday, May 15, 2013 in a first round game of the MidEast Regional hosted by Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology at Art Nehf. First pitch for the game is scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

The Saints, the No. 6-seed in the regional, are making their fifth appearance in the NCAA Division III Baseball Championship and third in the last four years. Thomas More finished tied for second during the Presidents' Athletic Conference (PAC) regular season and finished runner-up at the PAC Championship Tournament.

Pendleton County Wildcat

much in the past days, the Cats travel to Clays Ferry to play Campbell County under the lights at 7 p.m. on Tuesday night and finish with three games at home. Thursday night verses Scott High, Friday night verses George Rogers Clark and Saturday verses Villa Madonna.

In a still undetermined date, the Cats will honor the five seniors and their parents for their commitment to Wildcat baseball over the past seasons. Seniors Mahlon White, Tyler Daugherty, Jacob Partin, Austin Pyles and Brady Purdy all are looking to lead their team somewhere the Cats have not been in a while, A 10th Region tournament berth.

"This is a special group of Seniors who have played together for many years. They have been vital in leading this team and getting us ready to play in the district tournament," Coach Aaron Biddle commented on his Class of 2013 group.

He continued, "Their leadership will be felt in PC Baseball for many years to come. I'm proud of each and every one of their accomplishments and I'm blessed to have been able to coach them."

Thursday night, May 23, these five will receive their diplomas from PCHS. And a 10th Region tournament appearance on Memorial Day, four days later, would be the icing on a very sweet tasting cake.

Registration forms can be downloaded from <http://pendleton.kyschools.us/athletics.aspx> and click on FORMS. All youth sports camp forms can be accessed here.

Parents who need daycare before or after their camp sessions can contact Summer Recreation Director Steven Peed at steven.peed@pendleton.kyschools.us about the Summer Recreation Program and it serving the parent's needs.

Youth Wildcat basketball camp

Ed Cravens will be looking for the next generation of Wildcat stars when he hosts the Wildcat Youth Basketball Camp on Tuesday, May 28 through Friday, May 31. The purpose of this camp is to introduce, improve, and reinforce the fundamental skills of basketball.

The camp is organized into two separate instructional sessions, to better accommodate the needs of the individual campers. Students second grade through fifth grade will have camp from 8-11 a.m. Students sixth through ninth grade will have camp from noon to 3 p.m.

Master of Ceremonies Patrick Clore introduced the winners of the chamber awards. President Doug Buckner and Vice President Randy Wells presented the award plaques. Each winner also received a Certificate of Exceptional Recognition from the Kentucky House of Representatives. Judge/Executive Henry Bertram presented these documents.

The Image Award was given to Second Twelve Mile Baptist Church for all of their efforts and contributions to the victims of the 2012 tornado.

The Public Service Award was presented to Tim Antrobus for his hard work and dedication to the Pendleton County Road Department. Tim and his crew do a really great job of keeping our community clean and safe.

The Industry Award was presented to the Heritage Bank. The Heritage Bank is more than just a bank. As your community bank since 1990, Heritage Bank has grown to become one of Northern Kentucky's most respected financial institutions.

The Investment Award was given to Mark and Kelly Grisik for purchasing and renovating commercial property on Market Street in Falmouth. Their building, currently houses several businesses: The Family Dollar Store, the El Paso Restaurant, Debbie Sharp-Mary Kay and the Cabinet for Health and Family Services.

The James Griffin Community Involvement Award was given to Dennis Parker for his volunteer efforts in the Peach Grove area after it was struck by the 2012 tornado. One of his greatest accomplishments was organizing and overseeing 200 Saturday volunteers after that disaster.

Attorney Bob Bahalter presented the Sol and Jenny Goldberg Award to Margaret Ann Stahl for her long time volunteerism in the community.

The Outstanding Citizen Award was presented to former Pendleton County Superintendent of Schools Patrick Clore. Since his retirement in 2004 Mr. Clore has become a professional volunteer. He is currently a member of the Falmouth Rotary Club, president of the Pendleton County Library Board, member of the Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the Pendleton County Recreation Commission.

After all the awards were presented the master of ceremonies announced the winners of the silent auction. President Buckner thanked everyone for attending the banquet and the event was concluded.

RELIGION

BLANKET CREEK

It was a great service at church last week. Vickie Carr gave a great testimony. Bro. Ronnie Rains from Kentucky Baptist Convention preached a great service. "Are we consumers or servants?" Romans 1:1-7. A consumer thinks it's all about "me." A servant thinks and purposes his heart to where it's all about God. We need to be servants like Paul. We need to have a servant attitude rather than a consumer. We should never be afraid of the Gospel. Do you think God is looking for consumers or servants? Come to the end of life as a servant. Servants equip the church. Life needs to revolve around Jesus. Servants study God's word. Are you a consumer or a servant? Why don't you find out today?

We added to our prayer concerns: Carl Colvin, Grace Black, Della Metcalfe, Bob LaFollette and Ken Walsh.

Please continue to remember the families of Junior Beckett, Amy Dennie Workman and Bill Simon.

BUTLER BAPTIST

Colossians 4:7-18 lists the followers that traveled with Paul. This passage shows why we need each other to work together to do the work of the church. We are to serve others, not wait for others to serve us. God gives us gifts and talents that we must use to help each other. We are not to let our past haunt us. Jesus died for everyone. He forgives us, so we must forgive others. Only a relationship with Jesus can save us. Some believers need encouragement, we are to open our homes for church fellowship. These followers of Paul's were faithful to the end. What will people say about us 50 years from now?

Join us on Wednesday and Sunday as we learn how the Bible guides our life.

BUTLER METHODIST

We are still in the season of Easter. Who are we as Easter people? We are still His followers, we are guided by the Holy Spirit. He fills our hearts and takes away all our pain. God has called each of us to come and be guided by the Holy Spirit.

Neave United Methodist Church annual homecoming

The folks at Neave United Methodist Church cordially invite you to attend our annual Homecoming event, Sunday, May 26, 2013. Sunday school will begin at 10 a.m. and worship services at 11 a.m. A potluck

We hope all our dear mothers had a very happy Mothers Day on May 12.

The next United Methodist women's meeting will be held May 17, the ladies are sending out letters to prospective scholarship recipients. The men will be distributing food and have their next meeting on May 18.

Run for the Nets, Ky. Annual Conference invites you to join them in 5k run in Devou Park on June 9.

VBS will be held here at the "fair" June 12-14.

Those mentioned on the prayer list this week were, Donnie, Heather, Amy, Eddie Wilson, Marty Moreland, Dorothy Taylor, Ben Schehr, Ashton, Paisley, Macey, the Simon family and Betty Bay.

God Bless you and keep you.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

The message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is a reminder to every believer that the moment you came to Jesus Christ, made Him Lord, stepped out of darkness and into the marvelous light of God, and the moment you asked Jesus Christ into your heart through repentance you were delivered from your sins. At the moment you became saved, you became a part of the "WhoSoEver" Club.

"Christ hath delivered us from the power of darkness and has translated us into the kingdom of His dear Son" Colossians 1:13

Please come to the Chapel of Praise Assembly of God, where we can have the privilege of meeting you. We are located at Lenoxburg Road and Hwy 159 N., three miles from Falmouth. Call 859-654-6006 if needed and please leave a message.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

In the morning service on May 5 we recognized those who are cancer survivors. Our choir sang a "Smoky Mountain Gospel Medley" for special music. After the worship service we shared a meal in the fellowship hall. Many guests were with us for the service and others stopped by for lunch.

In the evening service, Bro. Cohen preached from Numbers 13:30-33. The message was titled "They Said It Could Not Be Done." We were reminded of many examples given in Scripture where God accomplished His purposes even when it seemed improbable or impossible.

Vacation Bible School is just around the corner. We will be holding VBS from 6:30-9 p.m., June 2-7.

Lots of exciting happenings as we look forward to summer. We would love to have you celebrate Christ with us at the corner of 4th and Maple!

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Rick's message was taken from the book of Philippians 4:4-13 "Strength Through Christ." Rejoice in the Lord always; let your moderation be known unto all men. Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication. If there be any virtue or praise, be true, honest, just, pure, lovely and of good report on these things. I can do all things through Christ which strengthens me.

Pray for everyone that doesn't know Jesus. Pray daily for those in nursing homes, hospitals, shut-ins, our leaders and our country.

We had a great turn out for the yard sale and lunch. Thank you to everyone who came and all those who helped in any way. May God bless!

"Katie's Lady's Night Out" will be at 6 p.m., May 17. Come join us.

Youth group will be at 6 p.m. every Thursday.

Go with God and He will go with you.

FALMOUTH METHODIST

Do you ever feel like you have the weight of the world on your shoulders? Is it any coincidence that the more we stress under the burden of these concerns, the more isolated we tend to be?

Oh, sure, we may have friends and loved ones around us, but we don't always allow them to come close enough to know how we are struggling.

If a person tries to carry all their burdens alone, they can easily become overwhelmed. But if we share our load with the caring people in our lives, it eases the burden.

God didn't intend for us to struggle alone; we were meant to be a part of a community. When life gets you down...when you feel ready to burst from all the stress, reach out to those around you. Let them share your load. And be ready to share theirs when they call upon you.

FIRST BAPTIST

The first Sunday in May was rainy and cold, but we were warmed by the "Son" inside. Bro. Harry sang, "His eye is on the sparrow," for special music.

Bro. Harry's message, "Be Devoted to Prayer," was taken from Romans. Praying is the most important thing to God. Our Lord is all-knowing and knows our every need, but He still wants us to talk to Him. He hears every prayer, no matter how small. God answers all prayers, but in His time and what He knows is best for us. Prayer keeps you close to Him.

Our shut-in for the month is Dorothy Angell at Grant Manor Nursing Home, 201 Kimberly Lane, Williamstown, Ky. 41097. Send her a card to brighten her day.

Pray for all in need.

"When we put our cares in His hands, He puts His peace in our hearts!"

HARVEST

Bro. Dale's morning message was based on the scripture text of Revelation 3:7-13, "What Type of Church Does Christ Prefer?" The church must refuse to compromise God's word and remain faithful to Him. Staying focused on Christ, not worrying about tomorrow.

Men's meeting/breakfast will be at 8 a.m. on May 18.

Memorial Weekend Retreat will begin with youth and kid's night, at 6 p.m. Friday, May 24; Bible study sessions for adults will begin at 9 a.m., Saturday, May 25; and Bible study at 9:30 a.m., worship services at 10:30 a.m., and ending with a potluck meal at noon, Sunday, May 26 at the Creekside Pavilion on Hwy 330. This will be a weekend of in-depth Bible study, good food and fellowship.

Prayer concerns: Kim Taylor, Larry and Judy Booth, Luna Benedict, Debbie Grizzell, Carlena Caldwell, Lorraine Bruin and the families of Junior Beckett, Mickey Covey and Amy Dennie Workman.

Come be our guest at 111 E. Shelby Street.

"Sharing the love of Jesus in a practical way!"

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

The day of Pentecost is celebrated as the birthday of the church, through the gift of the Holy Spirit. Pentecost initiates the people of God into a new era—"the last days" of God's salvation history, when Jesus' followers will be empowered to continue His ministry until His return.

The Holy Spirit makes the risen Jesus present with us, making us able to do ministry, giving us wisdom to understand, and the words to testify. It is our teacher, forming and shaping us. As Jesus said, it "will remind you of all that I have said to you." I invite us all to be praying for our churches. God is still living and moving today, desiring to work through our churches and in our lives. Pray for that mighty Wind to come upon us, and let us embrace this power and renewal together, to stir Christ's followers afresh with divine deeds of power.

All are welcome to join us at Morgan for Sunday school at 10 a.m. and worship 11 a.m.

MT. CARMEL

We hope all the mother had a happy and blessed Mother's Day!

Upcoming events include: ladies brunch in the fellowship hall at 10 a.m., May 18; a VBS meeting will be held in the fellowship hall at 5 p.m., May 19; and Memorial services will take place May 26.

A sign-up sheet is on the platform if you would like to join in a small group study. If you have any questions please contact one of the group leaders.

This year VBS will be June 23-28. If you would like to help out or have any questions please contact Greg Courtney.

MT. GILEAD

The Spring is moving to summer very rapidly. I like spring, it's my favorite season.

Flowers are opening with their beauty, birds are singing and young squirrels are playing. Just great!

Then I think of my Lord Jesus hanging on a cross for hours, dying a slow agonizing death. Why? There is only one answer - for you and me! So our sin can be forgiven and we can live an acceptable life and be with Jesus in heaven after our life has ended.

Don't forget the beauty of spring, with all the flowers, birds, leaves, etc but also don't forget Jesus' death and His joy of receiving a whole new class of Christian.

Pray, study the Bible, discuss and listen to the sounds of church with the music, songs, Bible reading, sermon and companionship with fellow Christians. ~Bob Jones

MT. MORIAH

Sunday, May 5, was a very rainy day but the rain did not stop the Mt. Moriah people from attending church and "that is a good thing!"

Our search for a pastor has ended. Darrell Breeden decided he would again serve as minister of our church. We pray for blessings on him and our congregation.

Plans for the boy's and men's retreat/camp-out will be getting underway soon. The camp-out is great for all who attend. The food is a big drawing card.

There are many horrible events happening in our country. Please remember to praise and pray for our young men and women as they so bravely fight to keep our country free and safe.

We added Lorraine Bruin to our sick list. Our sympathy is extended to the family of Bill Simon.

"How great is your goodness, which you have stored up for those who fear you, which you bestow in the sight of men on those who take refuge in you." Psalms 31:19

Have a great week!

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and fellowship! Sunday school starts at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible study is at 7 p.m. on Thursdays.

Upcoming opportunities: spring revival at 7 p.m., May 17-19 each evening; the Cross-Fire Crew will be visiting at Care Springs May 18; annual Church picnic at 12:30 p.m., June 9.

"Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth." Psalm 46:10

Remember in prayer Rene Bruin, Jenny Murray, Donna Haley, Mark Plumber, Charlie Downard, Hannah Perkins, George Biery, Teddy Wilson, Virginia Young, Rich Hamilton, Dina Dixon, Lance Phillips, Chey-

anne Douglas, Ron Malloy, Kevin Grayson, Virginia Groves, Jesse Addison, Bobby Fryman, Dorothy Angel, Audry Ferrell, Thelma Bowling, Jesse Dots, James Bryan Brown, the Davis, Whalen and Clifton families and all of our men and women in uniform. Also remember to pray daily for our country and it's leaders.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Wherever He Leads I'll Go.

A big Thank You to Bro. Rick and Gail for taking time out of their schedule to sit up a booth in Williamstown to pass out Bibles and church related information.

Many pictures adorn the Mother's Day table. What a way to honor those women who have touched our life.

The bottles for Care Net are due back on June 16.

A Community Sing has been planned for 7 p.m., Saturday, June 22. Bring lawn chair and join us at Pleasant Ridge.

Bro. Rick's message was from Ruth 1:16. Naomi lost her husband and two sons to death. She lost a daughter-in-law, who returned to her own family. But she found the soul of her other daughter-in-law Ruth. Ruth had a great affection for Naomi. Ruth said, "don't make me leave you, for I want to go wherever you go, and to live wherever you live; your people shall be my people, and your God shall be my God." Ruth was led in a godly direction.

Our Sunday evening Bible study is in Genesis. Plans are underway for VBS, July 14-19. Colossal Coaster World....Facing Fear, Trusting God. Dare to....Change, Speak Up, Believe, Stand Strong and Trust!

SOUTHSIDE CHRISTIAN

We opened the morning worship service on May 5 with the opening hymn, "Holy! Holy! Holy!" Brother Clay Sullivan preached the sermon, "Encouragement" from Hebrews 10:19-25. Brother Clay preached about three ways we can encourage one another: 1. our words, 2. our actions, and 3. our attitude. The memory verse for the week is from Hebrews 3:13, "But encourage one another daily, as long as it is called Today, so that none of you may be hardened by sin's deceitfulness."

Please be in prayer for all in one way or another.

Come and worship with us this Sunday: 9 a.m. Sunday school and 10 a.m. worship services.

TURNER RIDGE

We rejoiced with the Justus family as Jeff, Kathryn and Kitrina were baptized on Sunday, May 5. We lifted in prayer those on our prayer list and then Uncle Dale shared with the children the importance of "Praying for Others."

Kathryn and Kitrina read scripture from Matthew 15:25-28 and the choir brought special music. Bro. Dale's message "Intercessory Prayer" gave us the insight and scripture references to go to the Lord in prayer not only for the sick and our own relationship with the Lord, but to also lift in prayer the needs of others. "...not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance." II Peter 3:9

SHELLEY MEYER, 4-H/YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

Caring for show animals

Livestock shows are some of the most popular and widely recognized 4-H events. 4-H'ers who participate in livestock shows have been caring for their animals for many months now. With the first county fairs just a few weeks away, they should continue to keep their animals as healthy and comfortable as possible. This can be tricky sometimes with the higher temperatures and humidity that come with the summer show season. Animal comfort tends to decline as the heat and humidity rise.

Regardless of whether they're entered in livestock judging competitions, all animals need access to fresh, clean water. Water is an important component of overall animal health but is one some of us forget about when we talk about animal nutrition as the focus tends to be on feed. While it's important to give these animals good, quality feed, an adequate source of drinking water helps to keep animals' internal body temperatures within normal limits. This is crucial as the temperatures and humidity levels begin to rise. The water also needs to be clean. A good rule of thumb is, if you wouldn't want to drink water, neither do your animals.

4-H'ers should also make sure their animals have access to cool, clean shelters with adequate ventilation. Some 4-H'ers, especially those showing steers or beef cattle, may consider keep their show animals cooler by using fans and misters in their bedding areas. Providing clean, fresh bedding for show animals adds to animal comfort and helps keep them clean.

For more information on 4-H livestock shows, contact the 4-H youth development agent at the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

KENNA KNIGHT, FAMILY AND CONSUMER SCIENCES

Travel safe and smart this Summer

Internet Safety for Youth School will soon be out for the summer and that means children and teens find themselves with more free time for activities they enjoy. Summer fun can include everything from sports to shopping and, for most young people, it will include socializing with friends.

Social networks on the Internet along with new technology that links Internet and cell phone services are becoming increasingly popular. As access becomes more readily available, parental supervision becomes more important than ever.

The development of computer skills and media literacy are critical in today's cyber environment, however, some risks do exist. Exposure to inappropriate materials, requests from strangers for face-to-face meetings, and harassment are a few risks you want your child to know about and avoid.

A watchful parent provides the best protection. If you are a parent, be familiar with the on-line world yourself and know what kinds of information your child can access. Talk with children about their online experiences and show an interest in their online friends. Pay attention to what your child is doing but try to balance supervision with his or her legitimate desire for privacy.

Encourage your child to use protective features on social networking sites so they can control who has access to their personal information. Caution against releasing pictures, passwords, home address and other personal information to strangers online.

Encourage them to talk with you about anything or anyone that makes them uncomfortable. Be sure your child asks your permission before arranging a face-to-face meeting with anyone they've met online.

By keeping the lines of communication open with your child, you can promote safe, fun and positive experiences for your cyber-savvy youngster.

For more information contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

LINDIE HUFFMAN, AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES

Protecting Pollinators

Insects pollinate a large percentage of food crops grown in the U.S. and all over the world. Many different species of pollinators exist, but the insect best equipped for this job is the honey bee. Honey bees are exceptionally efficient at collecting and transferring pollen among the flowers of a particular crop. In a practice known as "flower fidelity" groups of foraging bees will visit just one type of flower, collecting and storing pollen in baskets located on their legs. As the bees fly from flower to flower, pollen particles are transformed between male and female parts triggering the plant's reproduction cycle which results in a fruit or vegetable that may eventually find its way to a dinner table.

A growing concern for U.S. agricultural producers is the continuing decline of honey bee populations. According to the National Agricultural Statistics Service, the number of colonies in Kentucky has dropped dramatically over the last century from 152,900 in 1909 to just 5,000 in 2009.

Many studies are underway to try to pinpoint the cause for this decline, and so far several factors have emerged as detrimental to honey bee health. One of these involves the use of pesticides and insecticides which can produce harmful effects in other pollinators, too.

Approximately 4,000 species of native or wild bees assist the honey bee in making a large contribution to the pollination task. They include everything from large bumblebees to tiny sweat bees. There are miner bees, carpenter bees, mason bees, plaster bees and orchard bees -- all named for the types of nests they build. Butterflies and some flies also pollinate certain plants.

You can help promote and protect insect pollinators by following a few simple rules. Never spray plants with insecticides when the plants are actively blooming. If chemical applications are necessary, strive for infrequent use and choose selective products with minimal impact on natural resources, especially bees.

Promote pollinators and invite them into your environment by planting a diverse landscape with flowers, trees and other greenery that bloom in succession from spring into fall.

For more information about insects found in your landscape and garden, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

The Amish Cook

By: Lovina Eicher

It's 7 a.m. and the children just left for school. My husband, Joe, has been at work several hours already and daughter Elizabeth left for her job at 5:15 a.m.

Joe tilled part of the garden last night. Daughter Susan, 17, and I, want to get some garden planted today. Spring is such a lovely time of the year but there's a lot of work involved. Susan mowed our grass on Saturday for the first time this year. Last year we were mowing in March already due to the early spring we had.

Congratulations, go to nephew Noah and Ruby! They have set their wedding day for June 11. I have to help cook at their wedding. Looks like more sewing but that's one way of getting more dresses sewn for me which I need anyway. Ruby's mother Lydia is my cousin so it will be nice to visit and work with some cousins at this wedding. Noah is Joe's oldest sister MaryAnn's son.

Last week our horse Ginger gave birth to twin foals. We were disappointed that none of them lived. We are anxiously waiting on Itty Bit to deliver hers any day and hoping everything will be okay.

Tomorrow night the fourth graders will have their portfolio presentations and meet with the middle school teachers. It is so hard to believe Joseph will be in middle school next term. That will only leave our two youngest: Lovina, 8, and Kevin, 7, in elementary. A reminder to us that time does not stand still. May we use our time wisely in a way that is pleasing to God and not self.

We attended church services in Indiana on Sunday. It's always interesting to visit other communities and meet new people. Joe is friends with Jerry, one of the boys in that church district. Jerry along with four other young souls started following instructions for baptism so we went in Jerry's honor.

We had surprise visitors Monday evening. Our friends Terry and Mary from Plainfield, Ind. stopped by to visit. They had their friend Lorraine along who is a faithful reader of this column. It was a pleasure to meet her and to also visit with Terry and Mary again. My sewing machine and also daughter Elizabeth's were sold to us by Terry. He is our fix-it man when we need tune ups or repairing done. In fact while Terry was here, Elizabeth had him give her machine a tune-up.

Dandelion blooms are starting to pop up here and there which will soon put an end to the dandelion greens until next year. Once the flowers are blooming the greens taste too bitter to use. Asparagus, rhubarb, and strawberries will be the next goodies we look forward to. We have been having winter onions already. The horseradish is coming up nicely and I also see the tea plants coming through the soil.

Last night daughter Loretta, 12, decided she will grill the meat for our supper. Son Benjamin, 13, helped her get the grill going. Loretta grilled hot wings and hamburgers. I made macaroni and cheese to go with that. We also had homemade bread and cinnamon rolls that I made earlier in the day. Also Verena, 15, made chocolate chip cookies and Loretta made peanut butter cookies after school.

The sun is shining in the east. Looks like a perfect day to plant the garden. I enjoy planting and can go bare-footed in the soft soil. The ground had been too cold so far. Lots of strawberry varieties to enjoy this time of year, perfect for this pie!

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 cups strawberries
- 1 1/2 cup confectioners sugar
- 1 cup water
- 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 3/4 cup sugar

DIRECTIONS:

To 3 cups of whole berries, add confections sugar and let stand 1 hour. Crush 1 cup berries and cook with water about 20 minutes. Sieve. Mix cornstarch with sugar and stir into berry juice. Cook until clear, stirring constantly. Fill cooled baked pie shell with 3 cups berries. Pour partially cooled sauce over berries. Refrigerate. Spoon whipped cream around the edge of pie before serving.
